

Your guide to Muscle Relaxant Treatments

The following is a guide of what to expect when booking an appointment for muscle relaxant treatments at WalkWell Aesthetics.

- When you first arrive at the clinic, you will be asked to complete a medical history form.
- The aesthetics practitioner will review the area for treatment first.
- Consent for treatment will be taken.
- The clinic is building a portfolio of before and after pictures. Consent will be required in order to take photographs. (This is completely optional)
- Before the treatment is given, the skin will be first cleansed.
- The treatment will take approximately 10 minutes for one area.
- You will be able to resume your normal activities, such as work as soon as the treatment is finished.
- There are a few activities that should be avoided, this will be explained prior to treatment and written on a hand out after the treatment.
- There may be a little redness and swelling immediately after treatment, this will disappear within a few hours.
- You will be required to make a follow up treatment at about 2 weeks after treatment to check the results and ensure that the desired affect has taken place.

Free 15 minute consultations are offered at The WalkWell Clinic for you to come and chat to the Aesthetics Practitioner before deciding to proceed with treatment.
